

Architectural theater

Presented at DecoHub.io, 'Archaeology of Silence', designed by Puntofilipino for Lladró, is a vivid painting of opulent textures, innovative design and moving storytelling through space and form. The dialogue between the crafted porcelain pieces and the architectural elements would stand out as a journey through a space that is both a gallery and a habitat, blurring the lines between artistic installation and functional design. An impressive panorama that invites you to the outdoors.

www.puntofilipino.com

